

Amy Schlesinger

University Relations Leader
PFM

Amy Schlesinger joined PFM in 2019. She is the university relations leader for the firm and is based in Philadelphia. She focuses on the firm's university relations strategy and execution as well as supports Diversity and Inclusion initiatives, specifically as they relate to campus recruiting and building a talent pipeline.

Amy's experience working in the Higher Education sector prior to joining PFM, provides a unique perspective to campus recruiting. Her experience allows her to capitalize on best practices in recruiting and analyze the current recruitment trends and market through a variety of lenses. Internship and talent pipelines are specialty areas of Amy's that will support the firm's recruitment plan.
