

Glenn Curtis

Senior Writer/Editor
PFM

Glenn Curtis is a senior writer/editor based in the firm's Harrisburg office. He is responsible for developing PFM's thought leadership and marketing collateral, along with creating and maintaining an editorial calendar.

Glenn brings 25+ years of experience, working for investment banking firms, data providers and web/print publications. He previously served as vice president of investor relations advisory services at Citigroup, where he helped publicly traded companies with their messaging and marketing efforts. Glenn also served as director of strategic research at Thomson Reuters, where he was responsible for authoring the firm's thought leadership content. Prior to that, he was a financial writer for a number of web and print publications, and was an equity analyst, covering the entertainment and gaming space.

Contact

213 Market Street
Harrisburg, PA 17101

curtisg@pfm.com
717.231.6264 office

Education

B.S. in Management Science
Kean University

MBA
Monmouth University

Started with PFM: 2019

Started in the Field: 1995